I. Executive Summary

RRP OG LLC is the all-inclusive pre-filing equity capital business investment opportunity currently only offered to defendants of active > pending legal action.

- ◆ Established Sole Proprietorship Since 1995
- ◆ Various Interconnected Ventures 1995-2020
- ◆ Holdings Company Since 2021
 - RR Productions, Weed Connection, The True OG Report, Domain Dispute

This enterprise has an umbrella company business model where the various interconnected ventures have their own individual organizational structures. Most entities are intended to be self-sufficient full-cycle operations and all with efficient green energy foundations for change.

RRP OG LLC and all its branches have mass appeal on a new level utilizing modern lucrative niches as leverage for targeted cross network conversions. Experience in new and growing markets will lead to a future full of sustainable growth and innovation.

This parent company will not only manage finances and shared assets but also while shielding the creator from further disruption by providing funds through infinity; kind of like more immortalizing than a sculpture. There will have never been such an independent resource rich hub not-for-profit but for evolution of good as a model of responsibility. HA!

The target market is all humans while also appealing to those with niche interest and disposable income. We do not discriminate. Everyone needs information and can use entertainment. Our products all serve their purposes. The marketing strategy based on a settlement investment is almost the opposite of what is currently planned for segments being unable to rely upon technology for eyeballs. Defendants would be required to provide great reach as part of any deal.

The current financial state is rebuilding from below the ground up with experience and foresight regardless of investment or settlement. The projected financial state is inevitably generating billions of dollars in annual revenue through thousands of legal franchises across the globe and media/services including but not limited to advertising; nevertheless, this deal is for a quick return on investment-to-nonprofit resolution. That investment includes not limited to time and blood shed during the REAL Legal Trill OG Revolution of around 2014-to-present.

RRP OG LLC is offering 40% equity for $121B ($100B investment; $21B to creator)

- ◆ RRP OG LLC is Currently 100% Owned & Operated by Creator @RussellRope

RR main point of business as of present:

Weed Connection, Inc., “The True OG Cannabis Hemp Network,” Legally Connects People w/ Cannabis Goods, Dispensaries, Lounges, Events, Information & Entertainment

- ◆ Unofficially Established OG Caregiver in 1997; Licensed Media Business in 2007
- ◆ Since 2006 Only Provides “Information & Entertainment” [@WeedConnection.com](https://www WeedConnection.com)
 - Media, Directory, Advertising & Merchandise Based Business Model
- ◆ New in 2022: Incorporation, Business & Franchise Development
 - Licensed Cannabis Dispensaries, Lounges, & Consumer Goods

The new business model is based mostly on franchising Weed Connection stores and lounges while simultaneously expanding product lines and manufacturing abilities. The intergalactic golden arches of the legal cannabis industry in development.

Weed Connection can become the largest cannabis franchise in the multiverse for all of eternity. Our vision is not only to create a sustainable business that is profitable to investors, but also to provide both medical patients and recreational users with the best quality products and affordable pricing.

We will provide a safe environment for our staff and customers. What differentiates us from our competitors are deep roots and mass appeal. This business is not only about the money, but WC is also true to the cause. Weed Connection is the most powerful name and inevitably to be the biggest lifestyle brand in the entire industry.

The target market for WC is all humans who use cannabis hemp in any of its many forms for any of many good reasons. We do not discriminate. Cannabis is for everyone, but our lounges will be for members and guests. The initial marketing strategy is based on efficiency not limited to mixed media, but also with focus on geography for natural grassroots word of mouth and foot traffic. We have major plans for international marketing through all relevant channels. Our flagship location and initial model storefront(s) will be placed in populated urban areas that attract millions of tourists annually.

The current financial state of Weed Connection is rebuilding from ground up with experience and foresight. The projected financial state is inevitably generating billions of dollars in annual revenue through thousands of legal franchises across the globe.

In the alternative to this plan, WC is raising $420M for 21% equity to develop the franchise and a full-cycle operation. The plan is a quick equity buyback upon legal settlement or then to raise an additional $580M for another 21% to be used on international expansion. This includes debt purchase of purchase of real estate for retail stores and lounges, a headquarters on a ranch where growth and manufacturing of brand name products will be sourced.

II. Company Description

Russell Rope Productions' Original Genius Limited Liability Company ("RRP OG LLC") is a multiversal media conglomerate, which has been evolving under different names since official establishment in 1995. From "Net Visions" to "Compuvisionz" to "Millennium FX" to "RR Productions" to "RRP OG LLC," the business has taken on several forms and various ventures. The LLC currently represents all interconnected business and serves as a parent umbrella holdings company mostly for purpose of monetary management. The business is a full-cycle (inception to production to creation to distribution) media company with mass appeal thoroughly monetized and emphasized by lucrative niche markets.

The core business components of RRP OG LLC in no specific order are RR Productions, Weed Connection, Domain Name in Despite ("rise.com"), Russell Rope (Brand), The True OG Report, and Legal Trill OG Revolution.

RR Productions is a world-class media production, digital publishing, and marketing company specialized in entertainment, arts, media, technology, communications, kush, events, and lifestyle. Headquartered in Los Angeles with global affiliates, RRP is notorious for implementing innovative, progressive, disruptive, and overall creative campaigns designed for success. RRP primarily serves internal ventures, but also represents the service arm of RR enterprise.

@ russellrope.com

Weed Connection is an industry pioneer that began as a caregiving business shortly after passage of Proposition 215 legalized medical cannabis in California and gave birth to the green rush. Starting the utopian bubble of Los Angeles County to Boulder, Colorado, the original Weed Connection had a good run and a clean exit.

@ weedconnection.com

Weed Connection for the most part had several regions of Northwest Los Angeles on lock by serving not only best medical cannabis on the planet, but also from offering an optionally more affordable selection, and thereby became so successful that staying in the quasi-legal business was too much of a risk at the time. The first business model WC was fully retired around 2004.

Weed Connection returned as a Dot Com launched in 2006. It is an original source for medical cannabis information and entertainment based on being one of the first ever directories of cannabis businesses. There was nothing like it at the time of inception. Weed Connection LLC was licensed in 2007 purely as a media business until being dissolved in 2021. Located in the heart of Hollywood, California for most of that time, the business model was based solely on advertising and merchandise.

Weed Connection, Inc. was formed in 2022.... ENTER LEGAL RETAIL FRANCHISE

The legal cannabis industry is saturated with dispensaries containing weightless names that no one is attached to, which lack the pull to attract customers using one of the most powerful and fundamental marketing tools being the business name. Many stores were named for reasons of differentiating themselves from each other and as to appear to be legitimate medical businesses. Times are changing and the industry is already starting to see massive mergers, acquisitions, and consolidations.

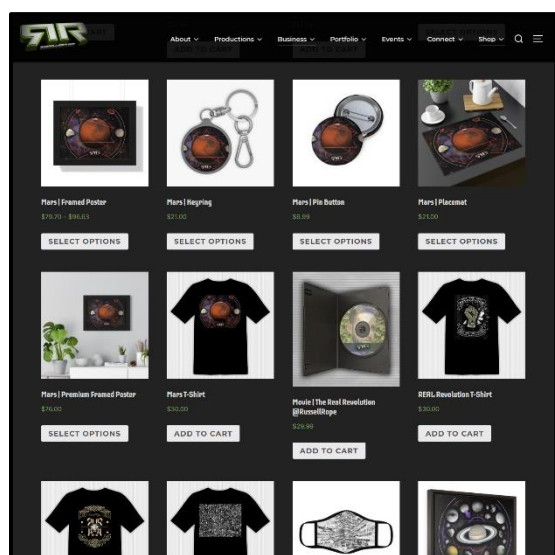

As the industry becomes more competitive and regulated, there is a greater need for alliances and partnerships. Weed Connection is an opportunity for smaller dispensaries to compete with the rising number of other franchises. Not only will the brand name move weight across borders, but it will offer a collective pool of funds for international advertising and consistency of quality products while also leaving space for local farms to distribute their products. Cannabis users want to be able to go into a store and know exactly what they are going to get, but also desire freedom to choose from a variety of options.

The True OG Report is a new show version of the creator's blog, an audio-visual masterpiece that will serve as no less than a prerecorded video blog "VLOG" and regular livestream that is also designed for standalone audio podcast; possibly to be distributed on TV and radio.

@ thetrueogreport.com

Russell Rope (Brand) is the personal brand of the creator, which began as a pure pursuit of self-expression through digital art and The Internet, then became monetized by not limited to merchandising. Every person, especially since the rise of social media, is their own brand, and this label has been a work in progress since before and leading to the establishing of a professional business. Books, documentary, movie(s), art, and architecture in queue.

Domain Name in Dispute (“rise.com”) is more than a mainstream digital publication with an emphasis on, but not limited to technology, arts, and lifestyle. Rise Dot Com was conceived as a place to give reputable rise to careers and lives. With various established entities already on market, granted some had hit temporary walls, and coming from an experienced and relevant background, this was designed to be a most collaborative production that anyone within the creator’s network could get behind. Planned to balance WC dot com since before formation in 2006, with a fully functional prototype developed in 2012, launch is delayed due to a criminal/civil domain name dispute. The first version of the site is powered by a new (at the time) custom developed Content Management System (“CMS”). The new CMS was integrated with innovative new media publishing technology specifically but not limited to the first ever use of 360 video; way before anyone else started embedding 360/VR video.

This venture should be just as profitable as WC. Legal victory is inevitable, but another domain name would be used if all options were exhausted. John Doe Defendants, liable for fraud as the basis for this dispute, have not been dismissed by any court, a new case is about to be filed for not limited to this, and the statutes of limitations for conspiracy tort to fraud under RICO is ten years from the most recent of still daily violations.

Legal Trill OG Revolution is RR federal lawsuit, which could be considered its own business venture based on both the time invested and its worth. The new RICO claim includes criminal charges minus equity for the same price as this opportunity.

@ russellrope.com/real-legaltrilog-revolution

Architecture Venture is planned for the majority use of funds, which will create unique space custom tailored to all of RR interconnected ventures as foundations for proper implementation of what is to be punitively taken in the form of investment. That entails owning the real estate also to function as multipurpose revenue streams.

The claim to this one-of-a-kind property in Beverly Hills was briefly introduced to SCOTUS and is now being detailed in the new RICO complaint. This green eco-friendly estate is planned to be a residential home studio compound for the creator planning to employ a mix of innovative 3d printing, hempcrete, and parametricism.

There is great potential for this art and architecture, which can be continued long into the future if not indefinitely; monetized on top of secured real estate holdings.

IV. Market Analysis

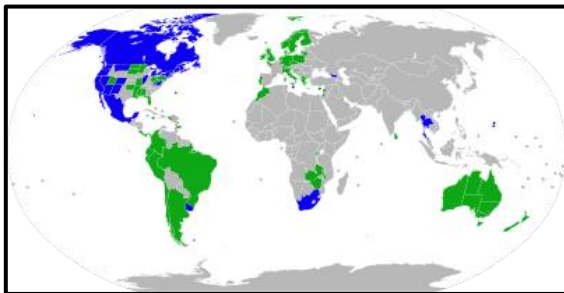

RR market is not limited to but focused on modern mainstream media with targeted niches and not accepting of stereotypical pigeonhole lifestyles. Viva LA Revolution! "Specialized in entertainment, arts, media, technology, communications, kush, events, and lifestyle," current productions across all channels are segmented into that which is of interest to the creator whereas the missing link highlights those categories while also spotlighting additional and common areas of news and popular media.

- ◆ 6/8 Billion Humans Consume Media
 - More than 50% the Population of Earth
 - "rise.com" is a High Traffic Mainstream Domain Name
 - Competing for These Eyeballs = Sales

Just as we have been driving conversions from Weed Connection to visitors and clients for RR Productions and brand, the mainstream dot com will leverage several markets and traffic redirected within the network.

Weed Connection understands its ideal customer. We started out as both patient and caregiver, then became a media marketing company focused on the niche cannabis hemp industry. We are just like customers and their customers in all relevant respects. Since before publicly launching in 2006, our predominant target clientele has been the same groups: cannabis business owners and those trying to break into the industry. WC is mostly engaged in business-to-business selling the gravity of a lifestyle brand and its audience of likeminded individuals.

- ◆ Entire Industry is Currently Worth an Annual Rate of Nearly $40,000,000,000
 - 10% Control of International Market is Worth More Than $4B Annually
- ◆ 19 States Have Legalized Adult Recreational Marijuana
- ◆ 38 States Have Legalized Medical Use of Cannabis to Varying Degrees

SWOT Analysis

- ◆ Strengths: Name, Logo
 - Branding, Deep Roots
- ◆ Weaknesses: Sabotage by IT
 - Companies & Federal Law
- ◆ Opportunities: Capitalization on
 - Foreseen Change in Federal Law
- ◆ Threats: Obstruction of Justice

Competition like market is segmented and circumstantial to individual ventures.

- ◆ Defendants / Obstructors
- ◆ Media Industry
- ◆ Cannabis Industry
- ◆ Fashion/Merch Industry

It is important to recognize that there are limited numbers of dollars that every business is competing for, but most relevant are the numbers generated by others, both which could have been obtained and are obtainable and proper measurements for financial damages incurred from Defendants; specifically, in the race to build cannabis related business in a new emerging market. One company that launched two years after Weed Connection and copied both the business model and many original ideas is now worth an amount fluctuating between $1-4B and another is similarly generating around $100M in annual revenue. Mainstream media conglomerates and big designer brands annually generate $10B-250B. Investing here is like buying into three separate corporations merged into one mostly just trying to break even, sustain, and focus on good causes over profits, which is where competition become allies.

Grow over shrink. Giving up the rise here saves loss and reduction. If you are only as big as your problems, not only did Defendants with everything make themselves problematic for the comparative with nothing, but numerous John Does also fall into competitive industries that have not previously been subject to “Legal Trill OG” litigation. The attached settlement offer would require some of the self-designated competition to sacrifice and share some of those eyeballs. This opportunity has leverage that could only otherwise be obtained by being the next biggest social media platform where it does not seem like that is even a possible next big thing, but the world is ready for this green machine seeks self-sustainability and will inevitably result in zero loss plus intergalactic planetary gains.

V. Strategy & Implementation

Weed Connection has been conducting business in an international niche market being the entire cannabis industry; specifically, under the name “Weed Connection” with few iterations of the same logo since 2006. The logo and name are copyright protected in addition to what is known as a common law trademark. As of 2022, Weed Connection is still the only business known to be using the name or slogan. The only reason Weed Connection does not yet have an official trademark from the United States Patent and Trademark Office is purely financial and can be blamed on Defendants. Weed Connection just filed for trademarks in several categories including but not limited to media services, franchises, and consumer goods. This process can take up to a year, but there are no possible legal reasons for denial, so we anticipate becoming an officially trademarked corporation within a year.

Strategy

- ◆ Organization
- ◆ User Database
- ◆ Recycling & Evolution
- ◆ Intellectual Property
- ◆ Completion of All Tasks
- ◆ Best Brand / Product / Prices
- ◆ Legal License & Compliance

Feasible Plans For ROI

- ◆ Legal Claims
- ◆ Pioneering Claims
- ◆ Good Idea Implemented
- ◆ Versatile Monetization
- ◆ Work Ethic

Causes @ RRP OG LLC and WC have been mostly environmental, and everything including creator interests have evolved. Stated since the original case filing, the majority of deterring punitive funds taken from Defendants would be used by creator/Plaintiff as a “philantropreneur.” It has not only been considered as to how that money would be allocated, but also what can be done when more probable than if our supply exceeds consumer demand where at least one giant hemp ranch is planned.

The convergence of green tech, architecture, and cannabis hemp building materials could additionally be used to develop modern eco-friendly 3d printed hempcrete communities that employ soldiers for climate change while also house the homeless in desirable conditions for soil restoration on the outskirts of major cities starting in but not limited to California. Sustainable everything. This will also be great publicity.

The three overarching factors used to differentiate business in the face of competition:

Cost Leadership

RRP services and products will be worth top dollar, whereas Weed Connection franchises should have the capacity to maximize profits by offering lower prices for higher quality product than most competitors. Sourcing and distributing quantity reduces the cost of quality. Profits, or at least return of investment and charity will be generated from a balance of revenue generated on the high-to-low ends varying by products, services, and targeted markets.

Differentiation

Independent sovereignty for variation and impartial truth. Our media business is a revolution that will not be reliant upon external financiers thereby influential sources with agendas. WC is not simply going to be a dispensary franchise, but also a soon to be household name; a lifestyle brand. People are not only going to desire our products, but also a label they use to express themselves where you cannot just wave your medz around in public. Distinction from the current cost leaders banks on strong and original genius identity.

Segmentation

Weed Connection serves a specific niche market, which is the cannabis industry as a whole. Our aim is to build traction using smaller franchise audiences before moving on to the broader market through both national and international advertising. The strategy is straightforward; if we build it, they will come, and our pool of collective funds will take marketing to the ultimate level. Cannabis still sells itself and nothing tops our identity. Not limited to many dispensary owners have always commented on how great the name “Weed Connection” is, and that speaks volumes, as does the logo.

RR Productions, blog, social media, and unreleased ventures are like intermediaries between WC and other targeted interests and lucrative segments such as events, arts, entertainment, and technology while domain name in dispute aka “rise.com” is designed as a mechanism to reach and connect with all that and more mainstream segments.

Suppliers

Weed Connection products are going to be sourced both internally and through third party vendors. We will do most branded merchandise production at our corporate headquarters; specifically printing and packaging. Raw materials and brandable items will be sourced from large manufacturers, and in-house full-cycle hemp manufacturing.

Cannabis products will initially be sourced from third party vendors by franchises until federal law changes. We plan to purchase farms designated to growing a few select strains to be available at all franchises after federal law changes. Dispensaries that convert to Weed Connection franchises will already have their own products in place, which will not be expected to see much change until we require half an inventory of designated products.

Having been in this industry for nearly three decades, we have thousands of contacts and will provide new franchises with a list of preapproved distributors.

This industry has changed, but cash still rules everything around it. There is certainly more supply than demand. Keeping shelves stocked will not be a problem.

Production

Our merchandise is currently produced on demand. While much of our production will be done in-house, we will probably work with regional print shops for marketing materials to save on shipping but anticipate getting big enough to have our own distribution routes. We will have seasonal workers lined up for busy times and unexpected spikes in demand. It is easy to hire people in this industry and we are going to will inevitably automate training with videos universal to all franchises. All our media and marketing will be conducted in-house at corporate headquarters or subcontracted to the currently parent production company at RRP OG LLC.

Facilities

This a most variable and resource dependent part of the plan. Business will be headquartered at the residential Beverly Hills city mountain home of the creator as soon as logistics permit. Commercial real estate would be acquired for flagship stores and lounges; models for franchise development. Capital would be used to buy and develop commercial real estate in the golden triangle of Beverly Hills and/or on Hollywood Blvd., in Hollywood, Los Angeles, California; very possibly in both locations.

The goal is for the corporation to inevitably own the real estate where all franchises are located and to lease to franchisees. The creator may buy equity back from investors upon legal victory but will never take over the individual franchises. Owning the real estate will potentially lower the overhead for and certainly secure franchisees. The point is for everyone to turn a profit while the creator remains in control.

Several hundreds to thousands acre ranches are currently on the market for around $50,000,000 in the Santa Barbara region of California where would like to start the largest of its kind on the planet ranch with purpose producing and manufacturing all our goods entirely from the cannabis hemp plant. This could also serve for tourism and events.

Equipment

RRP OG LLC headquarters and flagship store will need the same standard essentials as any normal media business, storefront, and farm. This includes everything from seed to soil and hydro to computers, several kinds of printers, cash registers, a safe, display cases, new cameras, lightbulbs, vehicles, and everything in between. The ranch would require modern farming and manufacturing equipment. We will consult with connections upon further planning an acquiring funds.

Shipping & Fulfillment

As much fulfillment tasks as possible will be handled in-house as we will also be producing merchandise and all packaging in-house. Shipping will most probably through UPS, and we hope to get big enough to have our own people delivering to and checking up on franchises via ground and air. Procedure will surely evolve.

Inventory

Merchandise will mostly be produced on demand and where stored in our headquarters. Franchises will be responsible for their own inventory of cannabis products until federal law changes, but congress did just pass protections for state regulate cannabis, so this could happen soon, but we need to do more research, and more importantly acquire funds and real estate in Southern California. Inventory will be managed through software as previously mentioned and with all franchises connected to the same system.

VI. Organization & Management Team

President & Creator

Russell Rope, also known as the “True OG,” became President of Weed Connection, Inc. on the day it was legally formed in 2022 but has been in complete control since inception back in 1997. Not only does Mr. Rope have nearly three decades of professional cannabis industry experience, but he has been an entrepreneur for several years longer and remains in control of several other interconnected media business ventures.

Highly educated, book and street smart, with unparalleled experience, Mr. Rope is a real genius with an education level greater than a collective PHD, MBA, JD, and MFA. Focused on everything to do with technology, art, and media since childhood, it was not until after graduating college that business and law were studied and practiced in great depth coinciding with first-hand practice, much of which is not traditionally taught.

Born and raised in Los Angeles, California, Russell Rope is a third generation Los Angeleno of European descent whose ancestors migrated from Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Lithuania, and Russia. Both sides of the family are comprised mostly of physicians and attorneys; professionals who value education, and it is relevant to mention that the Czechoslovakian roots were practically royalty; farmers who owned and operated cutting-edge milling equipment during the Industrial Revolution up until everything was taken before their escape from World War II. The genius is not genetic, but values and work ethic have been passed down through the generations.

Right and left brained, honest, demonstrably talented, knowledgeable with nearly photographic memory retention, experienced, scientific, independent, green, political, sovereign, impartial, and HAM, there is none more qualified to be this True OG.

More information @ russellrope.com/original-genius-og

Team Structure

It is obvious who is running the show, and there will never be a question as to where the ultimate authority arises, but it is also important for readers to understand that we do place significant value on the team. Unfortunately, there are delusional sociopaths who have been trying to make their lives about being boss of creator. Those liabilities were cut and anyone claiming any control should be reported to the feds and imprisoned. Said liabilities have tainted teams and are still obstructing hiring practices even when nothing but great interest has been displayed by past employees and prospective hires. The organizational structure of new business model will be run similarly to other corporations and retail businesses; probably with more efficiency. Most importantly is our value of “we not I,” including investors, franchisees, managers, and even those starting from the bottom. Each person will contribute to the inevitable success of our company. Business is war and only the True OG can win this battle on his own merit. This daydream can work without teamwork, but fraudsters cannot beat this so join the Real Revolution!

VII. Financial Plan & Projections

Income Statement

Ventures presently require little expenditure to maintain intellectual property and presence. In fact, the company has not generated any income for several years and is only being sustained out the creator/owner's shallow pockets. Unable to acquire funding or new advertising clients since multiple false arrests and mostly due to sabotage by defendant corporations, also suspected to be interfering with our online store, and because sales practices have been limited to through tainted communication technology, WC is adapting by significantly changing the business model, which should be for the better. Defendants stole multiple revenue streams; therefore, they must return it with interest, or a court will inevitably grant requested no mercy relief.

Moreover, comm-tech issues will disappear with the rise of proper cooperation and funding or inevitable legal victory. Websites will be migrated from private web host to running our own server on a dedicated connection. This has not been possible because Defendants have been interfering with not only creator funding, but also housing and Internet connections at every home where business has been conducted since launch. Apps were never released for the same reason; more than not having the extra money to put apps in the app stores, Defendants were aggressively disconnecting the Internet connection each time the creator started developing apps. Email will also move to the same secure server. Additionally, our phone service provider will be changed to a more dependable company and snail mail delivered directly to the business opposed to going through the allegedly secure intermediary at the California Secretary of State Safe at Home program who demonstrated vulnerabilities and compromised security in delivery.

RRP OG LLC is Weed Connection, and both comprise a rare if not totally unique prisoner of war crimes. Freedom is not cheap let alone free. Our resilience in the face of adversity truly adds a priceless and non-replicable history to the company, which can surely be monetized for all of eternity. The only way is up. Nothing but straight gains in queue.

Balance Sheet

Russell Rope aka "Creator" currently owns 100% equity. Liabilities being debt are nonexistent aside from a damaged credit score. Lumping both creator's personal and previous business credit card debt into one sum, we are only in the hole around $10-30,000, which will be paid off in full as soon as we acquire funding. Shareholder equity, calculated as assets minus liabilities, equals pure equity upon initial investment. All true liabilities are cut from this business as soon as they show signs, so all that remains are assets. Creator is most organized and an expert when it comes to using, quickly learning, or coding his own software, spreadsheets, and databases. The plan is to use the best business management software on market to run the entire franchise, but not until things are set in stone with brick-and-mortar business in place. Based on what competitors are using, options have already been identified.

Cash Flow Statement

RRP OG LLC and Weed Connection have not always been without cash flow. The creator started hustling before hitting puberty; made good money with both hacking and design skills, then a few years later and after major surgery on his digestive system, simultaneously started an independently operated caregiving business back in the day when demand was much greater than the supply. Starting with an eighth, turning that into a quarter, then an ounce, QPs, then half elbows and so on, the original flow grew from the cracks in the pavement to moving a pillow of medical cannabis on the daily before becoming larger than life and retiring from retail to focus on education before launching the federally legal advertising business model based the dot com. There were never any problems with authorities regarding law enforcement until years after all questionable grey area operations ceased. The right move was made because greedy envious human nature still played out as predicted despite passing any possible statutes of limitations.

Weed Connection dot com also had steady cash flow for several years prior to false arrests, which were truly retaliation attempting to discredit legal claims against defendant corporations whose intent was surely unfair competition where they could not otherwise compete with pioneering claims on top of True OG history and solid connections. Regular advertisers included several dispensaries in addition to other random clients listed on the creator's resume. Some cash flow was generated from merch sales, and the monetary value of several trade deals added up into the tens of thousands. The company was paying minimum business taxes and reporting gross revenue of around $50,000 a year for several years between launching 2006, disruptive false arrests starting in 2014, and through 2016. The dot com could no longer afford minimum business taxes and the decision was made to dissolve the LLC. A fictitious name statement was planned to be filed for Weed Connection under the creator's new parent company RRP OG LLC, but finances were disrupted by corrupt government actors shorting the creator about $9,000 of promised scamdemec relief, and it was then decided to incorporate.

The creator is a clairvoyant alchemist who truly knows how to grow money on trees. This document only contains lowballed numbers. Cash flow will return stronger than expected.

These documents basically say that Plaintiff will responsibly protect the interests of shareholders if Defendants grow a collective brain and agree to both cooperate and invest $121B into RRP OG LLC where $100B will go to the company and $21B to the creator; in exchange for 40% equity, no strings attached, and no one dies in prison.
